Permission to Video

We use video to record sessions at the Center for educational purposes. We are starting to educate practitioners. Video tape of sessions helps us to explain the work to professionals who come for mentoring. It will greatly help support the growth of our field of practice and will improve our practice. Sometime videos are used for us to get supervision from qualified practitioners. Our influences include the BEBA clinic in California (beba.org). They provide direct supervision for the growth of our work with families. We also get supervision from several practitioners who work with babies, including John Chitty, and Daniel Agustoni.

We bring the highest integrity to our work at the Center. Please aid us in creating and supporting the pediatric craniosacral profession with your permission to document our work. We will never show your videos to any other than supervisors without your. They remain part of your confidential record.

I give permission for our sessions to be videotaped for supervision and educational purposes.
